Celebrating 50 Years of Service!

Montgomery, Alabama, 1957. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. shares a poignant thought: "Life's most persistent question is 'what are you doing for others?'" This question drives many people throughout their lives in a quest to make an impact on others. It is a question worthy of reflection by each one of us from time to time.

West Midland Family Center (WMFC) is on a mission to enhance the quality of life for each generation by providing growth and achievement opportunities within a caring environment. Through educational and recreational opportunities and a wide range of human services, WMFC has been working diligently since 1974 to improve the lives of those living in western Midland County.

In the beginning, the West Midland County Community Center was established in a renovated schoolhouse to provide programming for local teens and a location for seniors to gather. In the last 50 years, however, that small organization has grown into a new facility (1989) and experienced two major expansions (2001 and 2016). Through the gracious support of local foundations such as the Midland Area Community Foundation, Charles J. Strosacker Foundation, Allen Foundation, The Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation, Dow Company Foundation, and Rollin M. Gerstacker Foundation, as well as numerous civic groups and donors, WMFC has been able to grow along with the community.

Continually changing and adapting programming to meet the needs of the community, WMFC has been able to stand the test of time and not only remain in operation, but thrive along with the communities we serve!

As we all move forward together, it is important to remember Dr. King's question and consider what we are doing for others. WMFC will continue helping each community member TODAY to reach their full potential TOMORROW, and invite you to join us in doing so along with us!

Everyone Invited to Golden Celebration Activities

The WMFC staff are putting together quite the celebration for our 50th anniversary coming up on Thursday, July 25th. Our hope is to have as many of our patrons and supporters join us in this milestone, gathering as a community to enjoy time together. A variety of activities have been planned for all ages to create a family atmosphere, although those attending without children will enjoy the experience just as much!

Festivities will commence at 4 p.m. Live music will be provided by Mike Dorrien from 4:45-5:15 p.m., followed by remarks from WMFC Executive Director Greg Dorrien. At 5:30 p.m., Pure AM Gold— Your AM Radio Concert Experience (better known as Stone Street Revival) will provide music, disk jockey narration, and throwback commercials until 7:30 p.m., so be sure to wear comfortable shoes for dancing in case the beat moves you.

Throughout the event, the activities will be open and free for all participants. In-A-Snap Photobooths will have a station for folks to get instant photos of the occasion, along with Henna by Jenna and face painting. Bounce houses, the WMFC swimming pool (bring your swim suits and towels!), and kids crafting areas will be joined by the Grace A. Dow Memorial Library with reading activities and Home Depot hosting a woodworking craft. A balloon artist will be on hand, and lawn games will be available throughout the WMFC grounds. Town's End Clydesdales & Carriage will also be providing a petting zoo and wagon rides! We also hope the community will help us color a large mural that will be on display in the Center, and take advantage of the building tours happening throughout the event.

No WMFC event would be complete without the chance to have a meal together, and our 50th anniversary is no exception! Guests will have their choices between Qdoba, Flying Trout Catering, and good ol' pulled pork, hotdogs, and brats on the grill, provided by the WMFC Board of Directors. For those just interested in a snack, popsicles and popcorn will also be available as an extra treat. For the final surprise, five gift baskets will be given out to lucky winners from random drawings throughout the evening.

This celebration is our way to say THANK YOU! Whether you are coming alone or with a large family, plan to participate in all activities or just listen to the live music, everyone will enjoy the chance to be part of our incredible community.
