New Bowling Center and Incoming Recreation Supervisor Strike it Right with WMFC Families

There is a new face with a brilliant smile and a warm embrace at the West Midland Family Center (WMFC)! Chelsea Davis, who hails from Mt. Pleasant and recently graduated from Central Michigan University with a major in

Chelsea Davis, WMFC Recreation and Building Supervisor

Recreation and Event Management, and a minor in Child Development, has taken over the reins as Recreation and Building Supervisor. Chelsea's passions make her the perfect fit for the Center. "I love working with young people and through recreation, I found a way to positively impact people in the hope of making a difference in their lives."

Chelsea is excited about taking the lead with WMFC Recreation. "I was excited when I learned there

Spacious Updated Food Pantry and Clothing Room Provide Easy Access for Families

With the completion of the recent expansion, major improvements have been made to the WMFC Community Clothing Room and the Midland County Emergency Food Pantry Network at WMFC. Both services have now been moved to the "cottage" behind the Center. The move will provide both the clothing room, and the food pantry, with more room and will make for much easier and convenient access to the public.

"The clothing room was relocated to provide additional space for guest access and for volunteers to work. The extra room will make it much easier to organize

Sobolewski Named Young Professional of the Year

Mike Sobolewski, Dow College Opportunity Program (COP) Director, began working at WMFC in August of 2013. Since then, Mike has proven to be an extraordinary employee, and an excellent mentor to 'his' students. He lives his life as an example for his students. He is dedicated to lifelong learning and community service...a standard to which he holds students.

The Bowling Center is one of the new features provided to WMFC patrons due to the generosity and major support of the Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation, The Rollin M. recreation opportunities at the Center I really wanted to be a part of all that."

"I hope to bring innovative ideas to WMFC," continued Davis. "I'd like to see a garden where children can learn more about growing their own vegetables. I would also like to introduce different forms of kickball, different tag games and themed weeks that really get the kids excited about spending time at WMFC. Through recreation we can teach children new things in a creative way."

"We will be working hard to bring a competitive, fun basketball league back to WMFC," stated Davis. "I also plan on adding exciting new recreational opportunities such as family game nights and holiday themed programming for the community."

"The Bowling Center is our newest recreation activity that has the entire community buzzing! It has SIX different games to choose from," explained Davis. "People may call ahead to reserve hour long time slots for a max of six people per lane. Cost is $10 per hour per lane, which includes shoe rental. Birthday party reservations must be made at least two weeks in advance," continued Davis. "We will also have senior bowling opportunities in the mornings on Monday's and Wednesday's when the Greendale Senior Services Center is open."

"I am working with the various WMFC departments, as well as the community as a whole, to create more recreational opportunities that everyone wants and for everyone to enjoy. I've always wanted to be a part of an organization whose focus is on changing people's lives and, at its very core, that is what the Center is all about," concluded Davis.

clothing articles and it will provide us with space to display household items," explained Helen Roth, WMFC Volunteer Coordinator.

The WMFC Community Clothing Room will now share the "cottage." As a result of the change, the food pantry has tripled in size from what it was previously. The additional space gives guests the opportunity to shop for their own grocery items.

"This is a wonderful option and takes the guessing game out of filling a food order and having to determine what families like to eat," explained Renee Young, WMFC Family Services Director. "It's also a great option because it allows guests to choose foods that they like and select foods that match their allergy, gluten and dietary needs."

For more information about the food pantry please contact Renee Young youngr@wmfc.org and for information about the clothing room, please contact Helen Roth, rothh@wmfc.org. Both Renee and Helen can be reached at 989-832-3256.

Long Time Family Advocate and Friend Gail Crosby Enters Retirement

How many people have the opportunity to work at a place they enjoy, while doing what they truly love to do with amazing people? To apply interests, talents and passions to help other people is a dream job and a huge blessing. This is how Gail Crosby, former Licensing and Volunteer

Gail Crosby

Director, feels about her 28 years at WMFC.

“WMFC has really done more for me than I have done for WMFC and our community.

It was an honor to be welcomed into the hearts of countless families who shared their trials and their blessings with me. It has been an honor to feel part of a bigger family - our WMFC family,” shared Crosby.

Gail began her WMFC journey as a young mom in 1989 when her youngest son, Jake was in preschool and Gail began volunteering in his classroom. Soon afterward, Gail was hired as a preschool aide. It would be the first of many roles that she would fill during her time at WMFC.

“One of the most important attributes Gail brought to the Center was her passion and love for the people that we serve. Gail always held “her” families in highest esteem and worked diligently on their behalf,” stated WMFC Executive Director, Greg Dorrien.

“The role I am most passionate about is working with families. Nearly every parent I have ever met wants to be a good parent but some have never seen what good parenting looks like. With a little education and encouragement, mediocre parents can become wonderful parents,” stated Gail.

Last year, Gail’s mom and dad were both diagnosed with Alzheimer’s. Then her dad had a fall and passed away leaving the care of her mother to Gail and her sisters. After much prayer and reflection, Gail felt called to care for her mom and she tendered her resignation from WMFC.

“I never expected to have mom move in with us nor did I plan on retiring at this point in my life, however this is similar to any family whose circumstances change abruptly through no fault of their own. Life just happens that way,” added Gail.

“Gail has become such an integral component of WMFC that it’s hard to imagine the Center without her,” reflected Dorrien. “She has always provided a calming influence with our patron families as well as our staff and an enthusiasm and work ethic that is unmatched. We miss her dearly but know that she has made a sound choice in taking this time to focus on her own family.”

Gail’s journey with her mom has been dedicated to educating herself on her new role - that of caregiver. Gail has tapped into Midland County Senior Services and is taking part in their Tools for the Caregiver Workshop and their Caregiver Support Group.

“I am amazed to learn how many people in our community are sharing their life to care for the needs of another,” shared Crosby. “Caring for an aging parent is much more all-consuming than my full time job ever was but I welcome this challenging season in my life. Challenges are what give birth to future opportunities to help others who are going through similar challenges.”

Mike goes above and beyond to help coworkers and the students in his charge. He is a stellar team player.

Mike knows that professional community networking greatly benefits the Center. To that end, Mike has intentionally become connected in the communities we serve. In Midland County he is part of the Midland County Career and College Access Network, and in his home community – Isabella County, Mike volunteers at and is a former board member for the Friends of the Broadway Theater. Mike is also a member of the Young Professionals Network (YPN) through the Mt. Pleasant Area Chamber of Commerce, where this year he was recognized with the Young Professional of the Year Award!

“It’s clear Mike loves helping students succeed, but he also has a true passion for volunteering, which is evident in the many ways that he has served others in our community,” remarked Rachel Rollin, Director of Events, Mt. Pleasant Chamber of Commerce. “Mike is reliable, works to recruit new members, and regularly puts forth new ideas to improve YPN. He is a great asset to the Mt. Pleasant YPN and our community.”

Mike’s YPN involvement provides him professional development, networking, and volunteer opportunities, participation in the annual YPN Conference and support of various charities, including adopting a family through the WMFC Holiday Help program. WMFC is proud to recognize Mike as one of our own! Thank you Mike for allowing your light to shine so brightly. Congratulations on this fine accomplishment!

Gravity takes a holiday. Azaylia and Lillian share in wonder with their apparent victory over the laws of physics.
